

Rosa carolina

Pasture Rose

Flowers are a deep pink with leaves turning yellow-orange to red in the fall. Bright red hips catch the eye in fall and winter. Give it room to grow -- it suckers and can spread to 12' in width. Found in wetter areas but grows well under many soil and moisture conditions.

Suggested Companions: white oak (Quercus alba), American plum (Prunus americanus), smooth sumac (Rhus glabra), smooth aster (Aster laevis), showy goldenrod (Solidago speciosa)
